London Office

King & Spalding is consistently ranked amongst leading M&A practices. Our M&A Practice Group advises clients on transactions across the UK, Europe, Russia, the US, the Middle East, Latin America and Africa and includes a fully integrated team of lawyers in London, Frankfurt, the US and the Middle East offering English, German, US and Middle Eastern legal advice. Our practice focuses on cross-border, emerging market and multi-jurisdictional transactions, where clients count on our expertise to ensure that their transactions are handled effectively and efficiently.

Client Service—What Sets Us Apart

Whether acting for international corporations or privately held companies, our client service and responsiveness are what clients say set us apart. In today's challenging and changing economic climate, clients turn to us for our experienced and responsive advice. We provide partner-led deal teams, offering hands-on advice for complicated international transactions. Our goal is to build long-term relationships with clients and work together to help them grow successfully and meet the challenges of today's business environment.

A Leader

King & Spalding has been consistently recognised by our clients as a leader in client service and was recently ranked as one of the top 5 law firms that Fortune 1000 companies view as providing the best client service, according to The BTI Consulting Group's annual "Survey of Client Service Performance for Law Firms". The firm was also rated among "the cream of the crop of the Client Service A-Team" by The BTI Consulting Group.

While we provide English, German, US and Middle Eastern advice internally, we work with a network of leading independent firms in countries around the world to provide clients with seamless international advice. We are able to match the right local counsel to each transaction, resulting in top-quality service and a cost-effective legal strategy, regardless of geography. In addition, we combine this service with the responsive and proactive advice that is the hallmark of King & Spalding to provide truly global client-friendly legal advice.

Ranked as one of the top 5 law firms that Fortune 1000 companies view as providing the best client service.

The IFLR 1000 recognized King & Spalding as one of the world's leading law firms advising on financial and corporate matters.

Our advice is clear and concise and delivered in a timely manner. We keep you fully informed along the way and don't believe in surprises.
