

International Trade Team

Helping Protect Client Interests Globally

GLOBAL REACH

One of the largest and most sophisticated trade practices in the world, with more than 30 lawyers, economists, foreign legal consultants, and accountants in the United States, Europe, and the Middle East.

FIRST-HAND EXPERTISE

- five former trade officials from the U.S. Department of Commerce
- three former officials from the World Trade Organization
- a former European Commission trade officer
- a former General Counsel from Finance Canada
- a former United States Trade Representative Deputy General Counsel who recently joined from the Trump Administration

WTO

We are regularly involved in WTO dispute settlement matters on behalf of sovereigns, including the largest dispute in terms of number of third parties and Russia's first dispute settlement proceeding. These matters involve claims in the areas of intellectual property, technical barriers to trade, market access (GATT), antidumping, subsidies, and safeguards. We represent Member countries that are involved in WTO disputes as defendants, complainants, and third parties, and we have participated in consultations and appeared before the Panels, Appellate Body, and WTO arbitrators.

Our team is well-placed to offer comprehensive service to clients with respect not only to the World Trade Organization and the WTO Agreement, but also all other international organizations whose work and mandate affect and shape international trade. Our experienced counsel in Geneva can use their strong network with diplomatic missions, UN agencies, experts, and NGOs to help protect and advance client interests.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE PRACTICE

We have substantial practices in U.S. and EU customs, export controls, economic sanctions, anti-boycott, and anti-money laundering. We assist a wide range of industries, including aerospace, defense, energy, financial services, chemicals, pharmaceuticals, medical devices. We also represent the interest of clients before European authorities including, for example, HM Treasury, the UK Department for Business Innovation & Skills, Innovation & Skills, HM Revenue & Customs, Agence France Trésor, and the Service des Biens à Double Usage.

e-Commerce

- Represent major U.S. and European multinational corporations in a variety of trade and investment negotiations, and on the application of treaty-based rules to improve global market access for e-commerce

Trade Defense

- Assist clients with trade remedy cases, including anti-dumping, countervailing duty (anti-subsidy), safeguard, and other actions, in the United States, Latin America and Asia, including the largest-ever antidumping case against China and the first countervailing duty petition to be successfully filed in the United States against subsidized imports from China;

Financial Services Trade

- Advise numerous clients engaged in customs audits and focused assessments.

Regulatory Matters

- Routinely support clients' import activities by assisting with regulatory compliance assessments, prior disclosures, the development and implementation of trade compliance policies and procedures, and the treatment of specific entry-related questions.
