

Special Purpose Acquisition Companies (SPACs)

Leveraging our deep experience in capital markets, M&A, securities litigation, securities enforcement, tax and executive compensation and supporting practices, King & Spalding continues to be a leading advisor in the rapidly evolving SPAC space. Our cross-practice, fully integrated team can seamlessly speak to and deal with the functional aspects of SPAC transactions and the associated risks.

Clients value our ability to build the right team of advisors when dealing with SPACs. Whether guiding sponsors through initial formation and the IPO; leading SPACs or targets through negotiations, deal execution and public company readiness; representing placement agents and investors in connection with PIPE transactions; representing SPACs, targets and de-SPACed companies in securities and fiduciary litigation; representing professional or financial services firms in SPAC litigation; or advocating for and guiding clients through regulatory inquiry or enforcement, we provide the experience and coordination required to grant our clients the competitive edge and deliver successful results.

Cases & Deals

September 2, 2021

King & Spalding Advises Greenhill & Co., LLC on Genesis Park Acquisition Corp.'s SPAC Merger with Redwire

August 10, 2021

King & Spalding Advises Riverview Acquisition Corp. on SPAC IPO

July 15, 2021

HeartFlow To Go Public in SPAC Merger

VIEW ALL

News

Capability Lawyers

Keith M. Townsend
Atlanta

Dixie L. Johnson
Washington, D.C.

Katherine Kirkpatrick
Chicago

Elizabeth Morgan
New York

Robert E. Benson, Jr.
Atlanta

IN THE NEWS

August 27, 2021

Over 60 of the Nation's Law Firms Respond to Investment Company Act Lawsuits Targeting the SPAC Industry

IN THE NEWS

August 27, 2021

K&S among the signatories on a statement opposing recent lawsuits arguing that special purpose acquisition companies should be regulated as investment companies

IN THE NEWS

August 26, 2021

Adam Hankiss, Jonathan Talansky and Kevin Manz advise JonesTrading, the PIPE placement agent for the Forbes Global Media Holding's SPAC merger

VIEW ALL
