

Silicon Valley

The Silicon Valley office is comprised of lawyers steeped in the region's unique culture of innovation. Our attorneys have been involved at the early stages in the development of some of the largest and most successful companies in the Valley. With this expertise, and leveraging King & Spalding's global platform, we help life sciences and technology clients wisely manage every aspect of their growth.

We offer life sciences companies specialized advice at every stage of the product life cycle—from intellectual property counseling to capital raising to FDA approvals to licensing and commercial partnerships. Likewise, we help our tech clients manage risk and achieve growth via early-to-late-stage capital raising, M&A and joint ventures, public offerings, data security strategy, licensing agreements, and defending their intellectual property in the U.S. and beyond.

Law360 named King & Spalding's Life Sciences and Privacy practices 2017 Practice Groups of the Year, and, in 2016, LMG Life Sciences named 11 of our lawyers Life Science Stars.
